

EAST GREENWICH SCHOOLS'

SATURDAY, APRIL 29 & SUNDAY, APRIL 30

In celebration of National Poetry Month, we've been reading, writing, reciting, and listening to poems all April-long. This weekend, we invite you to join in our celebration by visiting select local businesses during "Poem in Your Pocket Days." At each participating store, EVERY Clark and Mickle student who reads/recites a poem will be offered a FREE, small treat. Through this event, we hope to help our students build a love of poetry, confidence in public speaking, and a stronger school/community bond. Children must be accompanied by an adult, and you may visit as many, or as few, businesses as your schedule permits. There is, of course, no obligation to participate. We encourage our students to represent our schools proudly and, as always, use their very best manners! Questions may be directed to either Mrs. Wordelmann or Mrs. Ligameri at: wordelmann@eastgreenwich.k12.nj.us or ligameris@eastgreenwich.k12.nj.us

Please see the reverse side of this paper for the complete listing of participating businesses.

Share a poem at these places and get a (free) treat!
